

STEPPING STONES – 2011 - 2012 Updated September 2011

Africa Day Congolaise Project

Members of Calgary's Congolese community celebrate and educate about their cultural heritage

Be Fit and Age Well

Volunteers in the Southeast aim to enhance seniors' health and well-being

Book Buddies

Adult volunteers and local groups support a young girl to turn her idea of a youth-to-youth reading program into reality in the Northeast

Celebrating Winston Heights Mountview People and Place

Residents celebrate the spaces and activities they've created together to beautify their Northwest neighbourhood

City Repair Seminar

People interested in reinvigorating public spaces through community-led processes meet and share ideas

Calgary Bike Swap

Volunteers test ideas to get more bikes out of garages and onto the streets

Community Conference for African-Caribbean Men

Men gather to explore leadership, networking and the way forward as individuals and communities

Community Garden Build Projects

Neighbours in Bow Bottom, Northern Hills, Indian Bluffs, Heritage Green, Glenbrook and Coventry Hills build community gardens to come together and to green their neighbourhoods

Crestmont Spring Fling

A fledgling Southwest community association tests a spring gathering festival to introduce itself to its neighbourhood

Football Hockey Link Project

Volunteers introduce children and their parents to Calgary sports and sports communities

Integrating Youth with Seniors

Young people join a seniors group to organize a special social gathering in Northeast Calgary.

Kincora Children's Music Festival

Residents test a new festival idea to bring together their neighbourhood

Knit in Public Day

Volunteers gather in Olympic Plaza to share their love of knitting and community with others

STEPPING STONES – 2011 - 2012 Updated September 2011

Multicultural New Years

Volunteers organize a panel of speakers to explore how various cultural traditions mark the turning of the year

Open Minds

Children and adult residents of Lakeview visit the Tsuu T'ina Nation to make new connections between neighbouring communities.

Reaching for the Stars

Somali youth organize a conference to celebrate their achievements and envision the future

Seventy Years On

Post-secondary students bring their lecture series into the community to honour Calgary's military history with the local seniors

Sing a Song with Nature

Members of Calgary's Afghani community share their annual spring cultural festivities with the wider community at Bowness Park.

Southwood Paint the Pavement

Neighbours gather to paint a youth-created design on the street beside their schools and community garden as a way to address traffic safety concerns

Sunnyside Community Mapping

Residents imagine new community uses for underappreciated public spaces along the LRT corridor

The People's Poetry Festival

Volunteers bring poetry to the sidewalks and alleyways of Kensington

The Unpack Potentials Project

Young people from the Sudanese Aweil community celebrate youth leadership

Traditional Chinese Medicine Fair

Seniors share their culture's approach to health and well-being with the wider community

Why Not Vote? Exploring Immigrants and Voting in Calgary

Newcomers gather to talk about the issues, the voting process and what voting means in their experience

Wrinkles and Sprinkles

Women residents of a SW seniors' complex open their craft group to local girls to share knowledge and learn from each other